Well, the shark has pretty teeth dear,
G^7 C^6
And he keeps them, pearly white.
A^m D^m
Just a jack-knife has old MacHeath dear,
G^7 C^6
And he keeps it out of sight.
C ₆ D _m
When the shark bites with his teeth, dear,
\mathbf{G}^7 \mathbf{C}^6
Scarlet billows start to spread,
A ^m D ^m
Fancy gloves, though, wears old MacHeath dear,
\mathbf{G}^7 \mathbf{C}^6
So there's never a trace of red.
\mathbf{C}^{6} $\mathbf{D}^{\mathbf{m}}$
Sunday morning, on the sidewalk,
G^7 C^6
Lies a body, just oozin' life,
A^{m} D^{m}
And someone's creeping around the corner,
G^7 C^6
Could that someone be Mack the Knife?

C⁶ D^m
From a tugboat on the river,
G⁷ C⁶
A cement bag's, dropping on down.

The cement's just for the weight,	dear,
G^7 C^6
I bet you Macky's back in town.
